CARTAGENA CITY TOUR

The old walled city has changed very little in recent times. Its winding streets lined with Spanish Colonial architecture with colorfully painted buildings are delightful. The city was declared the “Historical Patrimony of Humanity” by UNESCO in 1985 and it is easy to see why.

The Church of San Pedro Claver dedicated to the Spanish born monk known as the “Slave of Slaves” or the “Apostle of the Blacks” who devoted his life to the welfare of the unfortunate slaves brought to Cartagena: he even begged in the streets for them. Claver was the first person to be canonized in the New World and his body lies in a glass coffin in the high altar. Visitors can also see the cell where he lived and died

Highlights of the old city are:-

- The Monastery La Popa,
- The San Felipe de Barajas Fortress and–
- Las Bovedas the dungeons – now used as tourist shops

EMERALD CAPITOL OF THE AMERICAS

“With fantastic, flavorful food and unbeatable outdoor seating directly facing the wise old Iglesia San Pedro Claver, this enormous restaurant and café satisfies the most critical customers. The restaurant produces divine Asian fusion food like sushi, nasi goreng, and pad thai noodles, while the café serves an extensive list of wine, cocktails, fresh juices, and beer.
